

Special Notice.

We take pleasure in informing our readers that we have made arrangements with the following gentlemen to sell the DAILY NEWS every day, viz: W. A. Barlow, Charles E. Hammond, Jr., J. J. Tilley, and A. J. Ward. We shall supply these gentlemen with the papers as early as possible in the morning, and hope that some of our friends will be accommodated by this arrangement; it is certainly a desirable one to us, as the call for our paper has now become a matter of some consequence.

Pant Trees.

No other people are so negligent in this matter as we Americans. In fact our whole energies seem to be employed in reducing the wilderness to our mark of civilization, which is to say the axe indiscriminately to all the trees within our reach without reference to the advantage which they are to us in their living form, we overlook everything but the sordid gain which is to be procured by their immediate destruction while living, and their manufacture into boards and thence into houses, &c. This plan of cutting down everything of the tree kind descends from the first settlers of our country, who no doubt thought that the work of clearing up the land could not be too rapidly effected,—the result is, that more than one-half of the improved farming lands in the older parts of the country, and indeed in many of the new States are suffering sadly for want of the very trees that the pioneers labored so hard to exterminate. There are now millions and millions of land in this country valuable only just in proportion to the number of standing trees, which a few years ago were considered nearly worthless on account of their presence and the obstacle which they presented to the cultivation of the soil without their removal. Fruit trees, shade trees and trees for fuel, fencing, and building purposes, should be just as much an object of culture as grass or grain. They are useful in manifold ways and are essential to the highest health of both men and domestic animals. Trees are in many cases the cheapest crop which the earth produces, a few minutes of time will suffice to fix the germ in the ground, and a few spare minutes, once a year for a few years will afford all the attention which they require,—after that they go on drawing nutriment from the air and earth, and thus continue for years increasing and expanding without any additional trouble or expense.

Some men excuse themselves from planting trees, saying that "if we do so we shall never be able to reap our reward"—but this is an idea too selfish to be entertained for a minute, it is unworthy of a human being.—Let us throw such thoughts aside and "do for others as we would have others do for us." In conclusion to this short tree sermon we will add the following resolution which should be the foundation of a National tree-planting association: "Whereas, the fillers of the soil can greatly enhance the value of the lands they occupy, very much augment the sum of their own health, comfort, and conveniences, and confer inestimable blessings on posterity, therefore, resolved," etc. Every owner or occupant of a farm or garden should become a member. His yearly contribution should be, the planting of not less than one tree. For a non-performance of this duty he should be promptly expelled."

Food for Reflection.

"Blessed is he that considereth the poor: the Lord will deliver him in time of trouble: the Lord will preserve him and keep him alive; and he shall be blessed upon the earth: and thou wilt not deliver him unto the will of his enemies. The Lord will strengthen him upon the bed of languishing: thou wilt make all his bed in his sickness."—1st Psalm.

Can you or any of your readers, Mr. Editor, point me to a man or woman, the true and living habit of whose mind through life has ever been to consider the poor, not for reward, but because the love of God or of the principle of His goodness implanted within had been so received and nourished that they could not do otherwise, who has been made less happy thereby or poorer even in worldly goods.

"Give (in this spirit) and it shall be given to you again; good measure, pressed down, and shaken together, and running over shall men give into your bosom."—Luke 6:23.

Such is the reward promised (aye, and received too,) to the truly unselfish, self-sacrificing and liberal in spirit, those who are constrained by that god-like principle of love and goodness, that they have habitually cultivated and kept alive to consider the poor, at the sacrifice of not only pecuniary means but personal convenience and comfort.—Remember that the poor woman who put into the box the farthing, of her want, cast more into the Divine treasury, than all the great and wealthy who gave thousands of their abundance.

Observer.

A NEW PLAN TO EXTINGUISH FIRES.—A writer in Hunt's Magazine suggests a new plan of extinguishing fires, worthy certainly of a trial. It is simply saturating the water of the fire-engine with common salt and potash—both very cheap articles, and both acting together to impregnate the wood, so that the flame cannot spread any further.—I.e. the muriatic acid flies off, and the soda remains as upon a glazed surface. Many a fire, which is within reach, might be stopped without any engine, by discharging finely powdered salt, lime, or chalk, through a tube on the blaze.

"You are rather flat," said the tea-kettle to the pan-cake. "I would like that as an epithet," said the pan-cake, "but I am aware that you have been steaming it."

LOCAL NEWS.

(Advertised.)

Mr. Editor:—An advertisement in your valuable paper headed "Notice" reminds me very much of the following little incident:

Once upon a time there was sold in the Old Dominion a hog-head of very superior Tobacco at the exorbitant price of 75 cents per pound in the leaf, of course all the newspapers in that neighborhood published to the world a full description of the tobacco together with the large price paid and the name of the successful planter raising the same. Now the purchaser, and manufacturer, had at once orders which must be met for at least twenty Hogheads, to fill their orders and that each shall have the "real simon pure" the manufacturer makes it twenty hogheads by mixing it with other tobacco raised in the same neighborhood and the whole is sold for original 75 cent tobacco.

Some parties who had as good tobacco as his, advertise that they have as good an article, and hint that his is not the original article, whereupon he came out with the following "Notice" as some parties make statements without regard to truth of knowledge, I have thought it advisable to insert a certificate from the planter from whom the original 75 cent tobacco was purchased.—The honest planter gives the following certificate.

SUNFLOWER PLANTATION.

Old Dominion June, 1887.—This is to certify that I sold to Mr. R. H. the original 75 cent hoghead of tobacco raised on my Plantation and that said tobacco is in my opinion, as good as any I ever raised.

This satisfied some, but the knowing ones wanted R. H. to give a certificate that the manufactured article sold by him was the pure 75 cent tobacco and that no other tobacco but that bought of H. G. at 75 cents per pound was mixed with it otherwise the certificate only whiped the d— I round the stump.

Yours, W. J. S.

A correspondent has sent us the following information respecting the authorship of the beautiful poem which we published in our issue of last Saturday. The explanation will no doubt be received with pleasure by "Constant Reader."

Mr. Editor:—Misanthropic Hours, the title of the piece published in your Daily of Saturday, appeared in one of our Newport papers many years since under this head.

"The following beautiful lines by N. P. Willis, obtained the prize offered by the Editors of the Boston Recorder and Telegraph, for the best practical production furnished for that paper during the year 1845."

READER.

A SCENE IN PETERSBURGH, VA.—MORNING A SEDUCER.—Several despatches received Saturday evening, gave notice of the expected arrival of the runaway seducer, James M. Lee, alias Banton, and his unfortunate paramour, Miss Stewart. An immense crowd immediately repaired to the Richmond depot, fully prepared to meet the scoundrel, and, after giving him a "duck" in the Apomattox, intended to march him through the public streets, and at night give him the benefit of a thorough tarring, feathering, splintering and burning. When the cars arrived every door was surrounded. A brother of Miss Stewart's was present, pressing close, with his hand upon a well-charged pistol, ready to shoot the villain down on the moment of his appearance.—The passengers in the train became very much excited at the conduct of the mob, and it was with difficulty that a passage could be made through them to the conveyances along the depot. Finally, Miss S. appeared upon the platform, forcing her way through the crowd, the observed of all observers, with veil aside, and moving with the grace and dignity of a queen. When approached by her brother, tears dimmed her eyes, and drawing the veil over her face, he conducted her to a carriage. Lee, it seems, had intended returning with her to Petersburg, and, for that purpose, had engaged tickets at the Richmond depot. But learning that despatches had been sent to this city concerning him, he left the train ten minutes before the time of starting, taking off his baggage, and returning to the St. Charles Hotel, leaving his pseudo bride in charge of an unknown gentleman of this city. Upon the announcement of this intelligence from the conductor of the train, the crowd in waiting left the depot in a perfect stew of chagrin, not, however, until satisfying their curiosity upon the good looks and stately form of the fair inmate of the cunning seducer.—Petersburg Express.

ANOTHER CASE OF SPIDER POISON.—The New York Evening Post chronicles another case of severe poison from the bite of a spider. The case is that of a gentleman of New York, who visited the west with the great railroad excursion, and after passing a night at Cincinnati, noticed a slight red spot between the joints of the thumb and index finger of his right hand. It was about as large as a sixpence, and encircled with a white rim, not unlike the sting of a mosquito. He took no special notice of it at first, but four hours after he rose, the sore spot had swollen and grown insufferably painful. A physician told him there were but two creatures at the West which could produce such effect—the rattlesnake and black spider; and therefore it was concluded that a spider had caused the wound.

The wound was rubbed with ammonia, and the sufferer, undergoing extreme torture, left for St. Louis on the same day.—His hand and arm, some distance above the wrist, had swollen to double their usual size, while the dull, dreadful, unintermitting pain, which had extended beyond the swelling to the arm-pit, reminded him of the jumping of fifty toothaches. In consequence of his sufferings, he was obliged for some days to remain in bed. Medical treatment in a measure relieved him, and he returned to New York. His hand is still disabled, and it presents a shockingly inflamed appearance.

GENERAL NEWS.

FEARFUL EXPLOSION.—In Chicago, on Monday, a man named James Pryor was engaged in making fireworks in his room in a large, solidly constructed stone building at 308 Main street, when an explosion took place, blowing the floor below into ruins, so as to make one room of the three stories. A brick partition was destroyed, eight or ten adjacent rooms wrecked, and the rear wall partly blown out. The building was used for attorneys' offices and tenements for the poor, and several of the latter were dug out of the ruins in the cellar; Pryor only was much injured, and is in a dying state. This is the second time he has met with a similar accident, the previous explosion having taken place in New York, when his wife was blown up.

The interior of the building presented a curious appearance, the floor of the upper story, where most of the tenement were, remaining untouched in its elevated position. The damage to the building amounts to $5000, which falls upon the owner, Wm. Hepworth, P. Volkans, frame maker lost, $1000; while a number of poor Italian and German peddlars, lost more than they could afford. Had the accident occurred a few hours later in the evening, when the dormitories would have been occupied, the loss of life must have been fearful. The report was deafening, and was heard at a distance of one or two miles.

A WITTY REMARK.—A certain gentleman—well known to this community—whose business is not a thousand miles from the Police Court, was deploring his ill health and the tenacity with which his indisposition clung to him, to some of his assistants. After enumerating various remedies he had ineffectually tried, the best looking man present suggested that "a little whiskey diluted with 'lasses," was considered highly beneficial, when taken on retiring at night. "A little what," emphatically interrogated the little gentleman, involuntarily showing his fine-looking set of ivory. "Lasses"—malasses," exclaimed the good-natured, rosy-cheeked individual, drawing his nice white fingers across that part of his capacious phiz that never opens but to utter something that will tickle the risibles of others.

"Lasses" snuggledly replied the witty man; "Yes, I love Lasses, but (with a frightful distortion of countenance,) I can't bear the Mo-lasses."

CASH AND THE COMET.—The savings bank in this city, it seems, experienced, to a serious extent, the popular apprehension in regard to the comet. Very few people had the courage to deposit any money, in view of the approach of the celestial should-er-hitter. They held back in doubt or in alarm. Some spent their money in riotous living, determined to make a short life a merry one. Others bestowed their superfluous funds upon the church. Others again hid away the precious sums in old stockings, behind ancient bricks, or in holes deeply dug in dusty cellar ways, to await the terrible result. Now that all fear is over, and the jolly earth is going on its way as whole and as heartily as ever, what an outpouring there will be of these accreted hoards! What a resurrection of rusty coin and dusty bills! There's nothing in the world so sensitive as the money market, whether in the marble halls of Wall street or the fetid basements of the Five Point.—N. Y. Mercury.

THE RIFLE MUSKETS.—The new rifle muskets, with Maynard's primer, and an improved "sight," will carry a Minié ball a thousand yards, or over half a mile, with remarkable accuracy. They weigh a pound less than the muskets in common use, though in length and size they are about the same. In the United States there are but two militia regiments supplied with this destructive arm, namely, the Seventh Regiment, National Guard, and the Seventy-First Regiment, American Guard, of New York city. Four hundred of the weapons in question were delivered at the armory of the latter corps on Tuesday. Thus armed, the regiments named at present stand unrivalled in their capabilities for active service by any other militia regiments on the continent.

Geo. T. Downing has written a letter to the New York Tribune stating that he had received a card of invitation to attend the distribution of diplomas, among the scholars of a Normal School in New York, at the Academy of Music, but could not attend on account of his color. We shall no doubt have an explanation in the Tribune, as we see no good reason why Mr. Downing should be thus excluded. The nabobs of New York have yet to learn that a man with a dark face can have a head containing some brains—which last article does not seem to be very prevalent in the above city.—Prov. Tribune.

Mr. and Mrs. Dalton, of the famous Dalton Divorce case, it is said have eloped together. After witnesses and eminent counsel had exhausted their brains upon them, they found that they loved each other a great deal better than they had any idea of, and therefore concluded, as rumor says, to try the honeymoon over again. We will venture that it will be happier than the first one. But what will become of Choate's and the other efforts, the printing of which the Boston paper claimed would reach so many times around the Common? Married people are apt to think in too many cases that they are unhappy, when they accept advice from outside parties.

THE SPIRITUAL TEST IN BOSTON.—The committee appointed to conduct the spiritual test in Boston have published a statement that none of the condition named were fulfilled by the mediums, and that the reward, therefore, has not been earned. The spiritualists will make a statement in reply. They allege that the trial was not a fair one, and that three conditions have been violated. We had a better test of spiritualism than any Boston experiments could afford. When the son of Henry Clay took the stump for James Buchanan, and the spirit of his great father did not rise from the grave, we made up our mind that there was no passing back from the next world to this.—Prov. Journal.

AN IMMENSE ESTABLISHMENT.—Stafford,shire, in England, is the great seat of the porcelain and pottery manufactures. No less than 60,000 are employed in the works, and the annual value of the porcelain manufactured amounts to about $10,000,000—three-fourths of which are exported.

AFFECTING INCIDENT.—During the destructive flood which visited Ithaca, N. Y., on the night of June 17th, sweeping away buildings and drowning several persons, a woman named Hawley, the wife of a brewer, living near the river side, heard above the roaring of the waters her husband's voice, in tones of agony and grief, bidding her farewell. She looked from the window, but intense gloom met the eye. The long night wore away, and when morning came she heard that he, with several others, had climbed into a tree near the creek for safety, the plunging torrent had uprooted the tree, hurled it against an island in mid-stream, and all the human beings clinging to the tree escaped to the island, except Mr. Hawley, who was swept down the stream. His lifeless body was found in the morning, and brought home to his sorrow-stricken wife.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION.—The Norfolk Argus communicates a fact in one of its recent issues, which is highly important—particularly to such as are threatened with that fatal insidious disease, known as consumption. It seems a gentleman in Louisiana bought some consumptive negroes from a dealer in Norfolk, and placed them on his sugar plantation. They ate plentifully of the cane, but more especially of the young shoots. The slaves, who had been thin, weak and sickly, soon became strong, robust and hearty, and in a short time all traces of the disease with which they had been affected entirely disappeared.

THE OLD WOMAN.—We doubt whether as old a woman now survives as one whose remains were committed to the grave a week ago. Aunt Titi, a slave belonging to Capt. Lewis Bissell, of this neighborhood, died on the 8th inst., at the extraordinary age of 130 years. Such an instance of longevity has not come under our observation for many years. The family attended the funeral.—Mo. Republican, 17th.

COTTON TO AMERICA.—Sending cotton from England to the United States may be said to be like sending "coals to Newcastle," but so it is—that East India cotton has been entered as per Liverpool Customs' Bill of Entry, in April and May last to the extent of several hundred bales, for exportation to New York and Boston.—Liverpool Times.

FIFTY WORKMEN KILLED IN A TUNNEL.—A terrible accident happened in the excavation of the railway tunnel at Hauenstein, in Switzerland, one day the last of May.—The tunnel suddenly fell in, and almost the whole of the laborers who were at that moment at work were either crushed to death or stifled. About fifty are believed to have perished.

SUDDEN DEATH OF A MILIONAIRE.—Ygnacio Crespo, a Spanish gentleman arrived at New York a few days since, from Havana, and died at his hotel Saturday afternoon of congestion of the brain. His body is to be embalmed and returned to his native country. He left property valued at upwards of $2,000,000.

The act of the last Legislature of New York, abolishing the three days' grace allowed on commercial paper, went into effect yesterday. Hereafter every note drawn payable within the State will become due at the time specified upon its face.

STRANGE.—Gerrit Smith, on his tour to address the Grand Mass Convention at Milwaukee, stopped at Chicago and was the guest of Senator Douglass, who treated him with great courtesy.

HAIL STORM.—A hail storm, in Buchanan Co., Mo., on Saturday, destroyed all the crops and killed some cattle in the fields. Several men were injured, and one, a negro, was killed. The hail stones were as large as goose eggs.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

ALPINE HAIR BALM
Restoring Gray Hair to its Original Color.

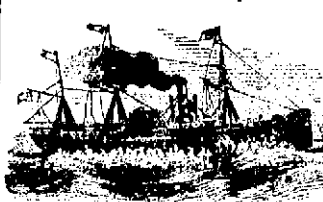

WARRANTED to cure Baldness, Scurf, Dandruff, itching and all diseases of the skin. This Balm gives the scalp a new and healthy action; restores the coloring matter to the roots of the Hair, which passes through the Hair, and gives it a natural color without the use of Hair Dye.

Hundreds of preparations have been introduced, pretending to preserve the Hair and keep it from falling out, composed of Oils, Alcohols and other deleterious materials, and all to no use. Hair Dyes have been introduced, but do not give the Hair a natural color, besides being troublesome to use. This Balm is not a dye. Knowing that a preparation was needed to do what was required for the Hair, the proprietor was induced to experiment until he could obtain an article that would be the exact remedy. It is soothing and emollient, allays all irritation of the scalp, thereby stopping that troublesome itching. It cures Dandruff and Scurf, and when the Hair has turned gray it will bring it back to its original color. It is Black, Brown or Auburn. It makes the Hair soft and glossy—prevents it from falling out, as will be seen by using this Balm for only a few days—life will be given to the roots of the Hair, and growth will soon appear. Growth does not take place at the end of the Hair, as will be seen in persons who have their Hair dyed. If you examine gray hair that has been colored, you will find it turns to the roots of the hair, has come out gray, hence it is necessary to have the hair at the roots of the hair healthy, that the whole hair may be a natural color. Each hair has a root in the skin, and is of itself a hollow, gray tube, through which there is a constant circulation of the pigment from the root.—When this pigment or coloring matter dies out, it leaves the hair hollow and it becomes gray. To invent a Balm that would produce this pigment has become the study of the proprietor. The discovery of the Alpine Hair Balm will do it. It will bring the Hair to its natural color by making anew the coloring matter.

It is a mistaken notion that oil or grease will restore the hair, as nothing can be more injurious. The Alpine Hair Balm will restore the skin and save the hair of those who have been sick with fever or any disease. Prepared by C. A. P. MASON, Providence, R. I.

RATHBONES Ambrotype Gallery.

AT ANTHROPOLOGICAL INSTITUTE, WASHINGTON St. (Near the State House).

THIS only place in the city where a good picture can be obtained. The brilliant and striking life-like expression of Rathbone's Pictures, are daily recommending them to all lovers of Perfect Likenesses.

The peculiar nature of Rathbone's chemicals and superior instruments (for which he has spared no pains in selecting) are such as to render his pictures almost nature itself, and they are entirely devoid of that sickly, death-like appearance which is generally noticed in Ambrotypes executed by those who do not understand or have no taste for the art. To all those who may want a good picture, whether Ambrotype or Melanotype, I would extend to them an invitation to give him a trial, and if it is not satisfactory, no charge will be made. A large assortment of every thing pertaining to the profession may be found at Rathbone's Rooms.

COAL.

LYKENS VALLEY COAL.—The subscriber was the first to introduce Lykens Valley Coal into this market, and it has proved a good family coal. The only objection to it is the clinker and the manner in which it is shipped for the last two or three years.

I have now to offer the Trevorton coal, equal in all respects, shipment and the clinker. Certain interested parties have endeavored to force the dealers in this and other markets into the purchase of the L. V. coal of them, by means of advertisements headed "Caution," as though dealer who do not purchase short mountains (sold for Lykens Valley) of them, were palming off an inferior article upon the public. Persons unacquainted with the Trevorton Coal can examine and test it with the Short Mountain (Lykens Valley) coal, at Win G. Peckham's or at the wharf of the subscriber.

PURE BOURBON WHISKY. State Assayer's Office, Boylston Street, Boston, May 20, 1887.

H. C. THACHER, Esq., 13 Central wharf, Boston.

Dear Sir:—With this can will receive the detailed results of analysis of two samples of Bourbon Whiskey, manufactured by Mr. J. B. Cutter, of Louisville, Ky.

It will be seen that these Whiskeys are pure and unadulterated, and entirely free from any mineral or vegetable drug or poison, and as such I can recommend them for medicinal use.

Respectfully,

A. A. HAYES, M. D., Assayer to State of Mass.

State Assayer's Office, 32 Somerset Street, Boston, May 20, 1887.

H. C. THACHER, Esq., 13 Central wharf, Boston.

Dear Sir:—I have made a chemical analysis of the sample of "Old Bourbon Whiskey" you brought to me, made by John B. Cutter, of Louisville, Ky., and find that it is free from all poisonous matters, and has 48 per cent of absolute Alcohol in it—and about 4 ounces of Saccharine matter to the gallon. It is a pure and unadulterated Liquor, and is suitable for medicinal use. Respectfully your obedient servant,

CHAS. T. JACKSON, M. D., State Assayer.

A constant supply of this Whiskey can be obtained of the Agents. Be sure that you obtain John B. Cutter's Old Bourbon Whiskey.

SPANISH GOLDEN MIXTURE. FOR FEMALES.

THIS elegant vegetable compound has long been used by the Spanish ladies, for regulating the derangements of the female system, and for improving the general health and beautifying the complexion. It is a warming, stimulating and tonic; enriching and purifying the blood, increasing the circulation, imparting color to the lips and cheeks, brilliancy to the eyes, and a clearness and freshness to the complexion not attainable by any other means.

As a Female Medicine it has no equal. It will remove female obstructions when all other remedies have failed, and a few doses taken for one week before the monthly period will prevent all obstructions from any cause whatever. This may seem incredible, but try it. If it fail in any case the price will be refunded. Sent to any part of the country. Price $3.00 per bottle.

Sold by ANOS PALMER, M. D., chemist and apothecary, (successor to Andrew Sawyer), No. 213 Westminster st., Providence, whose sole agent; the genuine to be had only at my store, Newport, HAZARD & CASWELL.
